St Kilda warms up ... literally

Theresa Evans joined thousands of people in St Kilda on a gloriously sunny November 20 for the City of Port Phillip's Warming Up for the Games Day on West Beach. There were performances by PNG dancers and locals were invited to try sailing, kiteboarding, circus tricks or beach volleyball in the lead-up to next year's Commonwealth Games. Member for Albert Park John Thwaites, sports minister Justin Madden, mayor Darren Ray and other local councillors tried out the new hybrid game of beach tennis, under instruction by Port Melbourne local Paul Mapley.
